CAREER TIPS

Study Abroad – Prerequisite Exams

1. IELTS

The International English Language Testing System is probably the most popular test among the students who are planning to pursue their studies abroad. It is an English proficiency test for Indian students planning to take up higher education in a foreign (English-speaking) country. The IELTS test is designed to evaluate the key language skills of the students i.e., listening, reading, speaking, and writing. The universities and educational institutions in leading education hubs for Indian students like the US, UK, New Zealand and Canada, accept IELTS scores to admit students to higher education programmes.

2. TOFEL

TOFEL or the Test of English Language as a Foreign Language is an English proficiency test that is conducted to evaluate the English speaking ability and understanding of a candidate. Over 9,000+ colleges, foreign universities and institutes accept TOFEL score as a valid measure of proof of English proficiency. Nearly 130 are the active participants of TOFEL where the test score is accepted to admit international students. The test is conducted by the Educational Test Service (ETS) which is an American non-profit organization.

3. GRE

Graduate Record Examination, popularly known as the GRE Test in the common parlance; is a standardized entrance test accepted by several popular and reputed B-schools, universities and educational institutes across the globe. The GRE Test is administered and conducted by Educational Testing Service (ETS) and helps educational institutions compare academic profiles and efficiency of different students for admission process.

4. GMAT

GMAT which stands for Graduate Management Admission Test; is a globally accepted MBA entrance examination through which MBA aspirants are screened, shortlisted and selected for admission. Conducted by the Graduate Management Admission Council (GMAC); GMAT is a computer adaptive test that tests quantitative, analytical, writing and verbal as well as reading skills of an MBA aspirant.

5. SAT

Scholastic Assessment Test is a standardized test for students planning to take up higher education overseas. Initially, SAT was developed as a common entrance test for students intending to join colleges / universities for higher education in the US. Currently conducted by the College Board, SAT exam is a mandatory requirement for seeking admission to undergraduate programmes offered at foreign universities. Apart from the general SAT tests, candidates can also take up respective SAT Subject tests in order to support their candidature for a particular subject course / programme.

6. ACT

The American College Test is a standardized test that measures the academic readiness of the students applying for admission to American colleges. The ACT standardized test is aimed at high-school students who are seeking entry to undergraduate level academic college programmes in the US.

7. CAE

Offered by the University of Cambridge ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages); the Cambridge English: Advanced (CAE) Test is a standardized English proficiency test that assesses all language skills of reading, writing, listening and speaking. The CAE test has been developed by experts at Cambridge to evaluate the English language communication skills of students required for complex academic and professional duties in foreign countries.

8. LSAT

Law School Admission Test is a very important standardized test for students planning to pursue law education in the USA, Canada and many other countries. The test is managed and administered by Law school admission council (LSAC) and acts as a uniform measurement tool of knowledge and intelligence for all law school applicants. A good LSAT score will go a long way in supporting your candidature to reputed law schools in any major English-speaking education hub for Indian students.

9. Pearson Test of English

Pearson Test of English Academic or the PTE Academic Test is a language proficient test for students keen to pursue their higher education in a foreign country. PTE is a computerized test conducted by Pearson which evaluates the English language proficiency of non-native English speakers or people whose mother tongue is not English. The PTE test results are widely accepted by universities, colleges and other educational institutions across the world in almost all major English speaking countries which are educational hubs for Indian students including USA, UK, Canada and Australia.
